You can read the manual of your Blaupunkt Endeavour 800 NG manual on our website as PDF file. The manual is also. 1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to the art of making magnetic head and, more particularly, to the art of making a plurality of magnetic heads having a plurality of core rows, respectively, and a plurality of head rows, respectively, which are connected in series and laid one on another. 2. Description of the Prior Art It is required to reduce the size of magnetic heads in high-density recording. In order to satisfy the requirement, a method has been employed in which a plurality of magnetic cores or the like are arranged in a row and connected in series to provide a plurality of magnetic heads. The conventional method will be described below with reference to FIGS. 1, 2 and 3. FIG. 1 shows a prior art example of a method of making a single magnetic head which is formed of two magnetic cores each having two magnetic pole pieces. In this example, the magnetic pole pieces of the first and the second magnetic cores are indicated by broken line. The connecting members for connecting the magnetic pole pieces to each other in series are not illustrated. A pair of magnetic cores 101 are arranged side by side in parallel with each other. The magnetic pole pieces 102a and 102b of the first magnetic cores 101 are arranged in parallel with the magnetic pole pieces 103a and 103b of the second magnetic core 103. The magnetic pole pieces 102a and 102b of the first magnetic core 101 are connected with the magnetic pole pieces 103a and 103b of the second magnetic core 103, respectively, by connecting members 104a and 104b, respectively. In this case, the magnetic pole pieces 102a and 102b of the first magnetic core 101 and the magnetic pole pieces 103a and 103b of the second magnetic core 103 are arranged in parallel with each other and hence the total length of the magnetic pole pieces is equal to that of the magnetic pole pieces of one magnetic core. With the above-described method, however, it is difficult to reduce the size of a magnetic head because the two magnetic cores are arranged side by side in parallel with each other. In addition, if the connecting members and the magnetic cores are misaligned in the widthwise direction of the

I'm writing a simple code to implement the Euclidean algorithm using pointers. When I run it, I get a segmentation fault on the last line of the main(). I can't find any mistake in the code, #include #include #include #include int main(void) { int i = 0, j = 1, n, m; int A[100]; int *ptrA = A, *ptrB; n = 100; m = 100; A[0] = 0; for(i = 1; i = *ptrA / *ptrB) break; ptrA = ++ptrA; 595f342e71
